

Read Like the Dickens is a foundation started in memory of John Glynn's late wife, Kimberly, who passed away in July 2007 of cancer. Kimberly Pierce loved her family and the Arts; she also loved to read, write, travel and learn new things. Kim loved to run small marathons. A love of reading is something Kim and John had already started to pass onto the children. The "Read Like the Dickens" foundation is set up at New Market Bank where donations can be sent. Monies raised from this race will be donated to the New Market Library.
